

The “Let’s Study the Bible” Campaign

I. Three Announcements (August – First Three Sundays)

Announcement One (First Sunday):

“We would like to launch a ‘Let’s Study the Bible’ campaign September 1. The heart of the campaign includes starting a local school of Bible study. The framework of the school will come to us online; it will be provided by the Truth for Today World Mission School. It is really a good school! Its high-level courses will eventually cover every book of the Bible and will be offered in twenty-three languages. Brother _____ will be the Dean of the school, and he will be glad to give you more information about the school. We believe that some of you will want to do an in-depth study of many of the books of the Bible. We hope you will want to become involved in this. The school will help us to raise up teachers, deacons, elders, and even preachers.”

Announcement Two (Second Sunday):

“You will remember that we announced last Sunday morning that we want to have a ‘Let’s Study the Bible’ campaign that will begin September 1. This really means that we would like to start a local school of Bible study that will have a high level of scholarship and will be very thorough in its coverage of each book of the Bible. The school will eventually offer these courses in twenty-three languages. So far as we know, this is the only school like this in the world! We would like to invite you to take advantage of this school. We are seeking to have our own school as part of our local work. _____ is the Dean, and he will be glad to give you more information about it or talk to you personally about it. We are putting everything into place so that we can start it on September 1.”

Announcement Three: (Third Sunday)

“This is our third announcement concerning the online school that we are seeking to put into place here as part of our local work. It will be a very good school that will allow us to study through the Bible in an in-depth fashion. The class is high-level, perhaps coming very near to the level of a college class. It is reading-based and will cover the text of the Scriptures very thoroughly. It will be led by some of our fine scholars of the Word who are brothers in Christ. Several of you have shown a strong interest in this. We have six to ten who may want to be part of it. It will start September 1. _____ is going to be our Dean. You can see him for additional information. He is meeting with everyone who is interested in taking some of these courses after the service tonight. We believe this school will be a great blessing to us.”

II. Three Bulletin Articles (August – First Three Sundays)

Bulletin Article One (First Sunday):

“We would like to launch a ‘Let’s Study the Bible’ campaign September 1. The heart of the campaign includes starting a local school of Bible study. The framework of the school will come to us online; it will be provided by the Truth for Today World Mission School. It is really a good school! Its high-level courses will eventually cover every book of the Bible and will be offered in twenty-three languages. Brother _____ will be the local Dean of the school, and he will be glad to give you more information about the school. We believe that some of you will want to do an in-depth study of many of the books of the Bible. We hope you will want to become involved in this. The school will help us to raise up teachers, deacons, elders, and even preachers.”

Bulletin Article Two (Second Sunday):

“You will remember that we announced last Sunday morning that we want to have a ‘Let’s Study the Bible’ campaign that will begin September 1. This really means that we would like to start a local school of Bible study that will have a high level of scholarship and will be very thorough in its coverage of each book of the Bible. The school will offer these courses in twenty-three languages. So far as we know, this is the only school like this in the world! We would like to invite you to take advantage of this school. We are seeking to have our own school as part of our local work. _____ is the Dean, and he will be glad to give you more information about it or talk to you personally about it. We are putting everything into place so that we can start it on September 1.”

Bulletin Article Three: (Third Sunday)

“This is our third announcement concerning the online school that we are seeking to put into place here as part of our local work. It will be a very good school that will allow us to study through the Bible in an in-depth fashion. The class is high-level, perhaps coming very near to the level of a college class. It is reading-based and will cover the text of the Scriptures very thoroughly. It will be led by some of our fine scholars of the Word who are brothers in Christ. Several of you have shown a strong interest in this. We have six to ten who may want to be part of it. It will start September 1. _____ is going to be our Dean. You can see him for additional information. He is meeting with everyone who is interested in taking some of these courses after the service tonight. We believe this school will be a great blessing to us.”