Truth for Today World Mission School HIGHLIGHTS

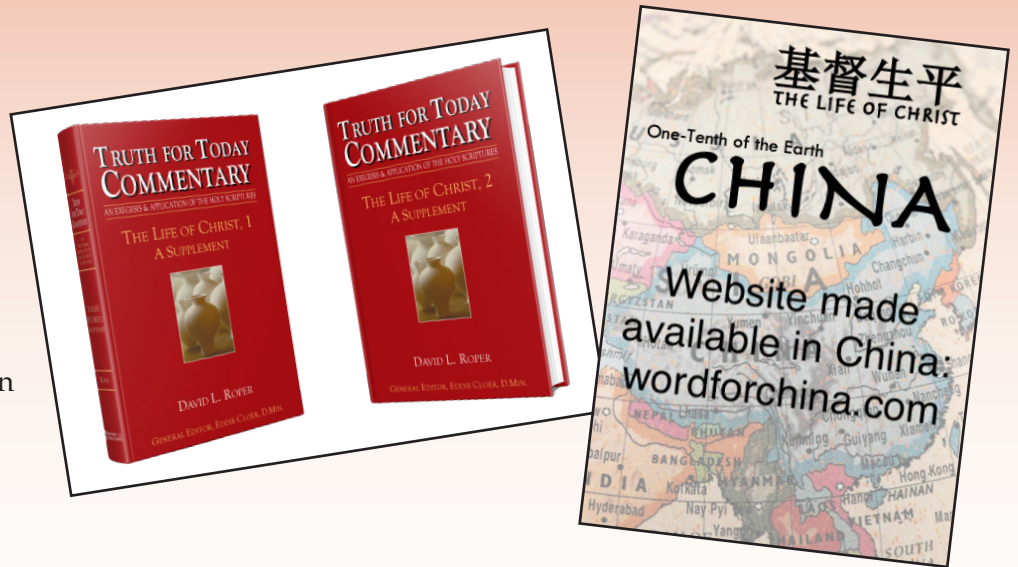

OUR WORK IN CHINA

Mandarin Chinese, spoken by 1.3 billion people, is the most widely spoken language in the world. The nation of China is experiencing a period of transition into a modern society of industry and business. Nearly one billion of the Chinese people now have access to the Internet.

Truth for Today World Mission School (TFTWMS) has translated hundreds of Bible studies in Mandarin Chinese. These materials, based on the Truth for Today Commentary series, are available at ThroughTheScriptures.com.

Sending Christian Resources to the Chinese-speaking World

Truth for Today World Mission School has partnered with a full-time translator, from Jingzhou, China, with the translation of materials into Chinese. Regarding the commentary series, she says, "I hope this series of commentary books will bless the church in China, and specifically that it will be a tool to equip hundreds (and even thousands) of Chinese church leaders." With the help of our translator, much seed will be planted in the hearts of the Chinese people of the world. We have nearly all of our New Testament commentaries translated into Chinese and on our website.

The Life of Christ 1 & 2 commentaries with additional Acts chapters 1 and 2 are now available in Chinese at www.wordforchina.com. There have been over 3,000 visitors and 800 downloads of the materials for this Tenth of the World!

A Note from Eddie Cloer

Thank you for your constant help with sending gospel literature. If you know Chinese-speaking individuals and missionaries who may benefit from this material, please share the website above, or contact us at this email address:
